SELFTIMEOUT NEEDING WORDS LIST

I can choose to listen in a mildly focused way to my body, and become consciously aware when I am hungry or thirsty or that it is time to relieve myself. We all do this so well and so often that we are not aware of solving these daily problems. We know what to do without thought.

Look at all that success! Every day! Time to Celebrate!

We have a FEELING, that suggests a NEEDING. The next step, to have a PLAN, emerges with the ease of taking one additional step.

1. I am aware of FEELING TIRED.
2. It occurs to me that I AM NEEDING SLEEP.
3. I CAN CHOOSE TO LIE DOWN FOR A NAP.

Yet when it is time to make a simple plan to take care of ourselves in social situations we often become locked in worry, anxiety or even panic. Most of us are accustomed to using very few words to express just what we FEEL, or NEED even to ourselves. Often, simply trying to say what we FEEL or NEED to ourselves let alone to someone else can become one of our most anxiety producing situations. It is as if we are not allowed to know what we feel and need, and that we are not allowed to have better outcomes. We are not allowed to listen to our own Body.

Making progress on the first, second and third steps above, awaits our efforts to improve our gentle self care. Sometimes choosing to act on Impulse leads to consequences that can help us notice our hardness toward ourselves. Once we NOTICE the hardness or cruelty toward ourselves we can INTERRUPT that hardness and REPLACE it with gentle and loving self care. Soon we will begin to experience a flow of helpful information from our Body to our Thinking Parts. Becoming a Gentle Self Parent is the key to better communication with our body and better outcomes for our whole being.

If I am able to know and express what I am FEELING to myself, I will soon know what I am NEEDING, and soon I will know my PLAN. When my plans come from my physical feelings and from my physical needs my life will feel more SENSIBLE. Of my own BODY.

When the next thing I choose to do comes from my worry and anxiety I will be making IMPULSIVE CHOICES. CHOICES Of my Impulses not of my own body. When I do this I am throwing the dice with my impulses and leading myself into a future that has abandoned my body and the wisdom of all my physical Senses. I am choosing consequences based upon my Impulses! Worry increases. Anxiety increases. I am heading toward increasing isolation from my physical wisdom, more impulsive choices, escalating anxiety and isolation. Lacking Five Step Self Time Outs as needed and the choice to listening more effectively to my Own Body, I am likely heading toward increasing anxiety and eventually panic.

When I know what I am FEELING and NEEDING, my PLANS will arise from my own body almost without effort. I feel that I understand what I am doing. My plans work well and if a plan does not work so great, perhaps I will listen a bit more gently and openly and understand my FEELINGS AND NEEDS better and make a better PLAN the next time I go through the Five Steps. Over the years I can become the only expert in the world in understanding my own Body.

So we can choose to have more FEELING words and to use more FEELING words, and have more NEEDING words and use more NEEDING words so we can understand our FEELINGS, NEEDS and PLANS more completely!

Look at all that success! Every day! Time to Celebrate!
